we are currently working on a cover version for a new release. the original 7-inch release and the corresponding video, produced by the band, are available now on itunes, spotify and all digital platforms. we have also recorded a cover of bonzo dunch's "the devil's old dirty hands" that will be featured on the next deep cuts edition. if you have a request, be sure to send them to admin@kniferegistry.com. we would love to hear what you have in mind. our first visit with the new knife, located at the highland dallas hotel, received critical acclaim in may 2014. since then, knife has carved its way through the restaurant scene and now calls plano its second home in north texas since october 2018. a reinvention of the steakhouse experience, the chef-driven restaurant features all-natural born and raised texas beef, pork and lamb in dry-aged prime cuts and specialty cuts such as chuck flap, beef tongue and akaushi beef. knife rights was organized in 2006 to ensure a sharper future for owners of one of mankind's oldest and most commonly used tools. elsewhere in the world, many of the knives sold and used daily in the united states are illegal or severely restricted and the restrictions are growing every day. even in the u.s., efforts to demonize knives and to place more restrictions on knives are becoming more commonplace. without a dedicated grassroots organization to protect our knives, they are an easy target for those who seek restrictions on our freedoms. knife rights is that dedicated grassroots organization. my favorite at knife is the dry-aged prime rib. i like the medium rare, but it's the prime rib that i love most. it's the best i've ever had. the menu at knife has a great variety of great cuts. i also like the sirloin tip steak, and the seasoned rib eye steak. the knife is a great steakhouse in cleveland, ohio. the steak itself is very good, but the menu is hit or miss. all of the meats at knife are dry-aged, which is a great idea, but the quality of the meats is inconsistent. i've never had any of the side dishes, but they all seem to be mediocre. i really want to try the lamb chops, but i'm not sure if i'll be able to stomach the lamb chops at knife. i am not a steakhouse person, but i recently discovered knife and ordered a steak. the steak is prepared perfectly and the service was excellent. i had never had a dry-aged steak before, so i am a little unsure of the quality of knife's meats. but, it was a great steak and i am very happy with my first dry-aged steak. i was visiting cleveland and wanted to try knife. i ordered a steak and was disappointed with the experience. i never had a steak that was dry-aged before, so i was curious about the quality of their meats. the steak was so-so, but the service was awful. i was treated with disrespect and the food was slow. i will not return to knife. i came to knife in december 2017 for the first time. the service was excellent. our server was very knowledgeable, and the wait staff was very attentive. there is a whole menu of sides to choose from, but i only had a small salad. the steak was excellent. the steak was a little on the thicker side, so i had to cut it into two pieces. the steak had a very good flavor, and i really enjoyed it. i would definitely eat there again. however, i would definitely recommend knife for a first time visit. 5ec8ef588b
