Effects of enflurane on central histamine and opioid binding sites in rats. This study was undertaken to determine the effect of enflurane on central histamine and opioid receptor binding sites in rats. Histamine binding sites were measured with [3H]histamine in rat cerebral cortical membranes. Opioid receptor binding sites were measured with [3H]diprenorphine in rat striatum and mu-, delta-, and kappa-opioid receptor binding sites in rat cerebral cortex membranes. The inhibitory effect of enflurane on these binding sites was compared with that of morphine, fentanyl, and U50,488H. Enflurane (0.1-1.5%) increased histamine receptor binding in a concentration-dependent manner. The inhibition by enflurane was not altered by the combination of pirenzepine (50 microM) and at
