The New 7 Wonders of the World Free 3D Screensaver presents the New Seven Wonders of the World competition. The competition was announced in August 2005. The selection process consisted of 3 stages. The first stage was carried out by UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization). Their decision was to set up 3 categories: ☐ Natural (Leaning Tower of Pisa, Grand Canyon, Montezuma's peak, Temple of Artemis, Angel Falls, the Statue of Liberty, and the Great Wall of China) ☐ Cultural (Machu Picchu, the Pyramids of Giza, the Taj Mahal, the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, Angkor Wat, the Acropolis of Athens, the Colosseum, and the Egyptian pyramids) ☐ Historic (the Statue of Christ the Redeemer, the Leaning Tower of Pisa, the Sydney Opera House, the Taj Mahal, the Great Wall of China, the Eiffel Tower, the Atomium, and the Roman Pantheon). The second stage took place in November 2005 and was carried out by individual experts. They are not the UNESCO members but the experts who were chosen by UNESCO. The experts reviewed each candidate and each category. They included the candidates who entered in the first stage but also new candidates that did not enter the first stage. The third and final stage took place in the beginning of February 2006. It was a nationwide vote by the public. People could log in to www.7wonders.com and vote. The voters could vote by selecting one of the seven categories (Natural, Cultural, Historic) and could choose the preferred candidate in each category. The total number of votes for each candidate was counted. The candidates with the most votes in each category were announced. Results of the voting are as follows: The result of the voting of the New Seven Wonders of the World competition was announced on 07/07/07, the same day that the 7 winners will be announced. However, that's not all you need to know. If you're looking for an alternative to the ugly and inaccurate '94 t-shirts, you're in the right place. Here, we have a couple options for you to consider. First, the Sophie's Choice T-Shirt by Yours Truly is an all-new design from NUKEWAVE PRODUCTIONS. It's 100% cotton, one size fits all, and available in 3 different colors. This is the most accurate Sophie's Choice t-shirt we've ever seen. The only downside is it's a little on the expensive side, because it costs a little more than the original t-shirts we all know and love. But the price
